

Specialist Technical Recruitment

Technical Resources provide a world-class, specialist recruitment service to our clients in the UK Contracting sector.

We successfully support some of the UK's leading Mechanical & Electrical companies providing a market-leading level of service and support. We have an extensive track record of successfully filling a wide range of both contract and permanent roles across all areas of mechanical and electrical disciplines including project managers, site supervisors and installation engineers.

We are also widely acknowledged as one of the UK's leading recruitment service providers and we continue to work with many of the leading organisations in the M&E sector.

Delivering Value for our Clients

We deliver considerable value by providing an exceptional level of service - before, during and after placement; by taking work-based references on all candidates to ensure we only put forward the right people for the right roles and by approaching everything we do with professionalism and pride.

Expertise & Experience

Our industry knowledge and experience, combined with our work ethics and professionalism enables us to talk to both clients and candidates in a language they understand and to provide an exceptional level of service – shortening recruitment times and reducing recruitment costs.

After 12 years of working in our chosen markets we have built up a turnover of over £10 million, have achieved ISO 9001 status and have a database of over 100,000 experienced candidates covering all the major disciplines in the sectors we serve.
